Volunteers set to run own children's centre

By Christian Wilson

A SOUTH Ham community centre has been recommended to receive a grant of nearly £30,000 to help families affected by the upcoming closure of the estate's children's centre.

The Hampshire County Council-run service currently operating from within Westside Community Centre is due to close when its existing contract ends in March.

In total, the number of children's centres in Basingstoke and Deane will be reduced from 11 to just one, with only Buckskin-based Honeycomb set to remain as a single "family support hub" for the borough.

The new centre would be delivered as part of the council's new Family Support Service, and combine the work of children's centres, early help hubs, and the existing Supporting Troubled Families Programme.

Westside Community Centre, based in Paddock Road, has applied for funding to start its own "family hub" service for South Ham, including an after school play group, toddler group, and parenting programme.

And the council has now recommended for approval a grant of £29,178.40 for the project, with the authority's executive member for children's services set to make a final decision on whether to award the funding tomorrow.

Bison stars serve up cash for charity

BASINGSTOKE Bison's players put down their hockey sticks and picked up serving trays last week to raise money for charity.

Head coach Doug Sheppard and several members of the Herd acted as waiters for the night to serve and chat to fans of the club at Basingstoke's Zizzi restaurant.

A raffle and two silent auctions for signed Stampede shirts were held last Wednesday, with £925 being raised for Ark Cancer Centre Charity to boost the charity's coffers.

Director of fundraising at Ark, Mark Jones, said: "Every pound counts towards the charity's £5million target, and Ark Cancer Centre Charity is grateful for this show of support from Doug, the players, the team at Zizzi, and everyone who came along to this special night."

Appeal fees blamed on local plan delay

By Christian Wilson

BASINGSTOKE and Deane Borough Council has paid out nearly £470,000 in lost planning appeals since 2010, new statistics have revealed.

The authority was one of 217 councils nationwide to respond to a Freedom of Information (FOI) request from property consultancy Daniel Watney LLP, asking how much it spent on appealed planning decisions.

It can now be revealed that the borough lost 19 decisions on housing and other developments between 2010 and 2016, with the overall fees of £468,694.60 ranking as the sixth-highest payout anywhere in the UK.

All of the developments in question were granted on appeal, after applications from developers were originally rejected by the council's development control committee.

Crucially though, the majority of the applications were received while the council didn't have a local plan in place to limit the number of developments, and give the committee greater security to prevent its decisions being overturned.

Cabinet member for planning and infrastructure, Mark Ruffell, said: "These figures go back to 2010, during which time we determined around 1,500 applications a year.

"The majority of the costs relate to a time period during 2014 and 2015 when a number of major development applications came in before we had an agreed local plan.

"Now that there is an approved local plan in place, there is a firm framework for the development control committee to make decisions on such major applications."

Basingstoke and Deane's previous local plan ended at the start of 2011, with councillors only voting to put the new one – to build 850 homes a year until 2029 – in place on May 26 this year.

This delay was partly due to Government planning inspector Mike Fox's refusal in December 2014 to approve a separate proposal to build 748 new homes a year – a number he claimed was too low.

But leader of the borough's Liberal Democrats group, Gavin James, believes that the fault for the delay was down to "internal party fighting" between fellow councillors on the Conservative-led council.

He said: "If the local plan had been adopted as planned, and people had been sensible, we would have spent the last five years delivering homes, like we're doing now.

"Without a local plan it was inevitable that we'd lose appeals, so [the figure] doesn't surprise me. They've messed around too much, and now it's had an impact.

"The Tories should've put people first, not party politics.

Young footballers receive £1,000 funding boost

A BASINGSTOKE junior football club with around 300 players from across the town has been handed a much-needed cash boost.

Hatch Warren Phoenix FC has been selected to receive £1,000 to help with the running of the club, as part of a Community Champions scheme.

The money has been provided by Persimmon Homes Thames Valley, and will be used to buy new goals, footballs, and other training kits for the club's 13 different teams.

Hatch Warren Phoenix is one of two groups to benefit from the initiative this month, which invites charities or community groups to bid for part of a national pot of £750,000.

Club chairman Darren Bavister said: "Football equipment can be very expensive.

"We have teams ranging from under sixes to under 15s for boys and girls, and we want to provide the best possible experience to all of them.

"The donation from Persimmon was a huge bonus.

"We are extremely grateful, and it will make a massive difference to hundreds of children in Basingstoke."

Persimmon director Rachel Faulkner added: "Hatch Warren Phoenix continue to provide a brilliant service to the people of Basingstoke, and we are hoping our donation goes towards unearthing some football stars of the future."

Combined unitary authority ruled out at this stage

'Mega council' is blocked

By Christian Wilson

PLANS to form a single 'mega-unitary' authority for the whole of Hampshire have been ruled out "at this stage" by the county council.

The idea of scrapping all of the councils operating in the county, including Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council, was one of seven options considered in a public consultation by the authority.

More than 5,000 residents responded to the survey, which ran over eight weeks from July to September, with 40 per cent calling for the current local government system to remain, and to not create any combined authority.

The options of creating multiple unitary councils, either one or two combined authorities, and to appoint an elected mayor were also consulted, with forming a Hampshire unitary representing the most popular devolution proposal.

But despite seeing 39 per cent of respondents back the unitary idea, council leader Roy Perry insisted the results had left him "determined to keep Hampshire together".

"While a unitary council for Hampshire is now the leading option in terms of both public opinion as well as financial efficiency, there was no option that received a clear majority," said Cllr Perry.

"It is therefore suggested that public opinion does not provide an imperative to submit proposals for a unitary county to the Government at this stage.

"We have always felt very strongly that any devolution deal should achieve the best outcomes for the whole Hampshire area. I remain committed, as I have been all along to working with our partners to achieve this aim."

Hampshire's announcement in May that they would consult on restructuring local government came just days after it backed a borough council-led proposal to form a 'Heart of Hampshire' combined authority, containing six district councils.

And after seeing the council spend around £250,000 as part of the consultation, including £100,000 on a consultant's report, the leader of Basingstoke's Labour group branded the process as a "complete waste of money".

"The way the county council waste taxpayers' money is obscene.

"The county council is failing us time and again; cutting services that people rely on.

"We're campaigning for a single council in Basingstoke and Deane to do the job that the county and borough councils currently do.

"We are ambitious for our borough; we know we can be better given the opportunity to stand up for Basingstoke and Deane."

• Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council is set to stay for now, and, inset, Hampshire County Council leader Roy Perry

£30,000 grant for community centre

• From front page

"It's really vital to this community, [and] to lose all that service was quite frightening.

"We want to support some of the families, and the whole point is so we can run the services left in the gap by the loss of the children's centres.

"This is South Ham thinking ahead, and the funding will allow us to employ someone to get the service up and running properly."

The number of children's centres countywide is to be reduced from 54 to 11 following July's ruling, in a bid to save Hampshire £8.5million.

While he praised staff at Westside for their "drive and initiative" in applying for funding, South Ham councillor Gary Watts questioned why residents had had to act at all.

He said: "It's very commendable, but they shouldn't have had to do this. These cuts are moving us back 20 years, and we're not going to have professionals dealing with it, it'll be the volunteer sector.

"But something is better than nothing."

Fellow ward councillor Colin Regan said: "It's excellent news, but it still won't fulfil the needs of Sure Start, [and] won't pick up the slack."

A further £51.497.13 of grant funding for four other projects across Basingstoke and Deane has also been recommended for portfolio holder Keith Mans to approve on Friday.

Youth Options is due to receive £18,718 to provide 40 activity days for Year 6 children in Basingstoke, while £16,026.13 is recommended to be awarded for a sexual abuse support scheme by Young People's Independent Counselling.

LGBT support group Breakout Youth is also set to be handed £10,666, with Yellow Brick Road Projects' programme to teach vital life skills to youngsters to receive £6,087.

Cllr Mans said: "Before agreeing the funding grants, I will want to be satisfied that the providers are going to deliver the services needed to meet the differing priorities for early help services at a local level, and will support vulnerable young people, that is to say, those most in need."

The borough council will host a wreath laying ceremony and the observance of two minutes' silence from 11am tomorrow at the War Memorial, in London Road, to mark Armistice Day.

Members of the public are also invited to pay their respects by attending a parade through the town centre on Remembrance Sunday.

Picture released in bid to catch robber

By Christian Wilson

POLICE have released a CCTV image of a man wanted on suspicion of violently robbing a woman in Basingstoke.

The 20-year-old victim was walking along Worting Road between 1am and 2am on Saturday, October 22, when the incident took place.

As she walked near to the motorway bridge on the road, the victim was approached from behind by a man she did not know. After a brief exchange of words with her, he assaulted the woman before stealing her phone and bank card and running away.

The woman was left with minor injuries as a result of the robbery, but saw the offender flee the scene in the direction of the temporary fire station in West Ham Close.

She has described her attacker as being white, under 30, of skinny build, and about 5ft 10ins tall. He was wearing a dark-coloured hooded top, possibly underneath a coat, and his head was covered by either a hood or a hat.

A police appeal has been launched to help name the man involved, with Hampshire Constabulary officers hoping that the release of the image of the suspect to the public will help their enquiries.

Detective Constable Edward Tyrie said: "We are trying to identify the man in this picture to speak with him about the incident, and would like to hear from anyone who can help us.

"In addition, we would like to hear from any members of the public who witnessed the incident, or saw a man matching the suspect's description acting suspiciously in the area at this time."

Anyone with information is asked to contact DC Tyrie on 101, quoting crime reference number 44160399379, or call the charity Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111.

Basingstoke pupils star in campaign

TWO Basingstoke schoolchildren have been chosen to front a national anti-bullying campaign.

Support service Counselling Directory has launched its Breaking the Barriers of Bullying scheme ahead of National Anti-Bullying Week, which begins on Monday.

The campaign focuses on the idea that people of all ages can be targets of bullying, with a film featuring actors aged 10 to 70.

And two of the youngest actors chosen to feature come from Basingstoke, with Aldworth School's Axelle Holman, 14, and 10-year-old Oliver Butler, from Fairfields Primary School, both having starring roles.

Axelle plays victim Hannah in the hard-hitting film, which sees her character develop an eating disorder and suffer depression as a result of teasing in school, with the teenager expressing the hope that her role will help others.

She said: "Acting in this film for such a great cause was just amazing. It was a great experience to be a part of this, and I really hope the film helps people who are struggling with bullying."

A Counselling Directory survey has shown that 55 per cent of people have been bullied at some point in their lives, with 70 per cent of victims never talking to anyone about their ordeal.

To watch the film, or for more information about the campaign, visit counselling-directory.org.uk/bullying.html.

Gritting lorries called out to keep roads safe

THE county council's gritters were called out on their first salt run of the winter overnight on Thursday as low temperatures hit Hampshire.

The salting lorries left depots in the early hours to make sure salt was spread on main roads where surface temperatures were forecast to fall to zero.

Hampshire's 5,300 miles of roads are salted on a priority basis, with A roads, major bus routes, roads to emergency services such as hospitals, and areas of traffic congestion targeted first.

Executive member for transport, Rob Humby, said: "Highways teams are on standby 24 hours a day, ready to act when temperatures drop and there is a threat of ice on the roads."

The county council has 25,000 tonnes of salt stocked for use across the county, with salt available to members of the public in bins provided.

Judges' ruling over Brexit move blasted

By Christian Wilson

A HIGH Court ruling blocking the Government from leaving the European Union independently could "do incalculable damage to the public", according to a Basingstoke and Deane councillor.

Prime Minister Theresa May had previously said she would activate Article 50 of the Lisbon Treaty by the end of March – formally notifying the EU of Britain's intention to leave.

But this could now be in doubt, after the High Court ruled last Thursday the process of triggering Brexit could only begin following a vote by MPs.

The EU referendum on June 23 saw one of the biggest turnouts in history, as 72.2 per cent of the public cast their ballots – with 51.9 per cent voting to leave the EU. The result was almost mirrored exactly in Basingstoke and Deane.

She said: "It's an extremely dangerous route to take.

• Onnalee Cubitt (blonde hair, centre) and Alan Stone (green jacket, centre) following the landmark referendum on June 23

"Pandora's box is not a box you want to open, so I'd say to the judges: 'get involved at your peril'. It could do incalculable damage to the public, [and] would make a mockery of the whole process."

Despite the ruling, the Prime Minister has insisted the Brexit timetable would still be followed, with the Government appealing against the decision – a move labelled "vital" by Ukip Hampshire chairman Alan Stone.

He said: "It's a shambles and a disgrace, [because] the will of the people has to take priority. It's almost an affront to justice."

But Green Party MEP for the South East, Keith Taylor, felt the referendum had not allowed the public to vote for a "plan on how to exit the EU".

He said: "Today (last Thursday) is a victory for modern democracy over the half-medieval version that Theresa May had in mind for Britain.

"A fundamental role of a democracy is to give people the opportunity to make an informed choice; that wasn't the case in an EU referendum campaign, in which both sides lied to the British public."

Tip hours change delayed

By Christian Wilson

HAMPSHIRE County Council has delayed its plans to reduce the opening hours at Basingstoke's household waste recycling centre (HWRC).

The Wade Road site was due to be closed all day every Thursday from the start of next year, while the hours were also set to be changed to 11am to 4pm for every other weekday.

But in the wake of a Government statement questioning the legality of a separate council scheme relating to charging residents to dispose of "DIY waste" at the tip, the authority elected to push this date back.

The usual winter opening hours of 9am to 4pm each day will now remain at each of Hampshire's 24 HWRCs however, with the new times due to become operational from October 1, 2017.

Executive member for environment, Rob Humby, confirmed the announcement at his decision day last Thursday, when he admitted that some of Hampshire's tips might once again be at risk of closure.

He said: "We have left no stone unturned in finding ways to keep the HWRC service open as much as possible to residents, while finding financial savings required by severe reductions in Government funding.

"However, even though many councils have been charging for non-household waste, or not even accepted it for some years, a recent Government press statement has threatened our savings plans by suggesting they may change the rules.

"Therefore, we have decided to hold off bringing in any further changes at HWRCs, and have delayed changes to opening hours until October 2017."

Basingstoke residents have been charged for items such as plasterboard, soil, and rubble at the town's tip since October 1, while small businesses have also been able to dispose of trade waste at the site, as part of a £1.55 million cost-saving move.

Cllr Humby added: "We have negotiated a new contract, and opened up the HWRCs for small businesses to use for their trade waste for the first time on a cost-recovery basis.

"These are early days, but I am encouraged by the take-up of this new service which is helping to meet the running costs of the HWRCs."

Designs unveiled for a £500,000 revamp of shopping centre gym

DETAILED designs of how Basingstoke Sports Centre's mixed gym will look after a £500,000 refurbishment have been unveiled.

The gym, based in Festival Place, is set to become "one of the country's most state-of-the-art fitness facilities" when it opens on December 12.

More than 40 pieces of equipment will be installed as part of the revamp of the two-floor 'Evolve' gym, including the latest range of cardiovascular, resistance and free-weights equipment.

And 18.5-inch personal entertainment consoles, with Netflix, BBC iPlayer, and apps, such as Skype, Facebook and Angry Birds, will also be installed.

Chief executive James Starbuck said: "We've always been proud of our mixed gym, and the offer it provides for a very wide range of customers.

"However, this £500,000 refurbishment is going to make it one of the best gyms in the UK.

"The latest equipment with the latest digital technology, plus integration with a range of popular apps, should help to give our customers their best possible gym experience."

Care promise

HAMPSHIRE: The county council has committed to continue investment in new technology to help thousands of Hampshire residents who need adult social care support.

A total of 6,500 residents across the county benefit from telecare alarm systems and sensors to allow them to continue living independently at home, as part of a partnership with PA Consulting's Argenti telecare consortium.

The pledge came just weeks after the county council approved plans to start charging those deemed able to pay for each carer that visits their home, as part of plans to save £1.4 million.

Care home out of 'special measures'

By Christian Wilson

A HOOK care home previously declared "unsafe" by health inspectors has been taken out of "special measures".

The Care Quality Commission (CQC) handed Rowan Lodge, in Crown Lane, an "inadequate" rating after visiting the nursing home last November.

In a report released on March 7, the inspectors said Rowan Lodge had "failed to meet the required legal standard of care and welfare", and handed it the lowest mark.

The home, which provides care for the elderly, was put in special measures, leaving providers Forest Care Ltd to make "significant improvements" within six months or risk being prevented from running it.

In the latest inspection, carried out on August 25, Rowan Lodge had made progress to address some of the faults raised previously, although the CQC still felt the home "requires improvement".

The report read: "Sufficient improvement had been made for the provider to meet the requirements of all seven previously breached regulations.

"Following this inspection, the service has not been rated as inadequate for any of the five key questions, and has therefore been taken out of special measures."

The inspectors handed Rowan Lodge a "requires improvement" rating for four of the five categories being tested – whether the service was safe, effective, responsive, and well-led, while it maintained its "good" grade for being "caring".

Forest Care director Frank Fogarty said: "We're pleased we've made good progress, and the progress will continue.

"Had it not been for the CQC's own procedure, it would've been good on all headings. But we expect that to be made up at the next inspection, [and] our work on that continues."

Council team picks up award

• The council officers with their award

BASINGSTOKE and Deane's council has been handed an award for its work in preparing young people for work.

The local authority has recently held employability workshops, including mock interview days and year-long mentoring programmes, at its civic offices.

The borough council has also worked on a six-week educational programme with The Hurst Community College to help raise the confidence of pupils.

And the council officers involved were rewarded for their work at the Skillstree Awards, picking up the Business Supporting Education title.

Council leader Clive Sanders said: "The council is honoured to have been recognised for its work with local school children with the Business Supporting Education Award.

"We understand the importance of nurturing young people in the borough to prepare them for work challenges and to give them the skills to handle these confidently."

The accolade was presented at The Ark Conference Centre, in Dinwoodie Drive.

Cllr Sanders added: "Every member of staff who has worked on The Consortium's Skillstree project has shown real enthusiasm and commitment in helping to bring out the best in all the young people they met, and we are very proud their hard work has been recognised."

Lasting Power of Attorney Advice

Who will look after me? It might be a question you have asked yourself before or maybe you haven't thought about it at all.

No matter what your situation is , it is an important question to think about. Here at Michael Usher 's we know the importance of being able to look after yourself and making your own decisions.

We understand it might be a little difficult to think of yourself as unable to to carry out simple tasks that you do every day. However sometimes, when we approach the latter years of our lives we may not have the capacity to make sound decisions . Having a Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) in place allows you to appoint someone you trust to make decisions for you when you are no longer able to.

There are two kinds of LPAs. One for Property & Finance and one for Health & Welfare.

As you might have guessed Property & Financial Affairs LPA extends to decisions regarding your property finances such as paying bills, buying and selling property in your name, running any businesses and making any payments for any health care.

Once this document has been registered with The Office of the Public Guardian (OPG) it will be effective immediately with your permission. The second LPA is the Health & Welfare. This will allow your attorney to make decisions about your personal welfare i.e where you will live, how you are cared for and what health care you will receive. This particular document can only be used when you are unable to make your own decisions. Unfortunately, if you do not have any LPAs in place you would need to go through a lengthy and very expensive process in the Court of Protection to legally grant anyone the right to make choices on your behalf. It is another added stress and complication in a difficult time.

For more information speak to one of our expert advisers.

AWE staff vote in favour of a strike

By Christian Wilson

STAFF at the Atomic Weapons Establishment (AWE) have unanimously voted in favour of taking strike action over changes to the workers' pension scheme.

The nuclear deterrent manufacturer has angered trade union groups Prospect and Unite after proposing to change the current defined benefit pension scheme.

This is instead set to be replaced by a defined contribution alternative, described by Prospect as a "worse" option, for the staff at its sites in Aldermaston and Burghfield.

• Prospect negotiator Richard Tabbner said staff had been forced into the action because of the sense of injustice they feel

AWE is one of Basingstoke and Deane's biggest employers, with 68 per cent of workers turning out to take part in a ballot last week on whether to strike.

From this, 87 per cent of members voted in favour of strike action, while 94 per cent backed action short of a strike.

Prospect negotiator Richard Tabbner said the staff had been forced into the action by the proposed pension change.

Mr Tabbner said: "This is an incredibly strong mandate for industrial action, which shows the strength of members' resolve on this issue and the sense of injustice that they feel.

"Prospect members care deeply about AWE's vital role in the UK's national security and do not want to take action that could impact on the UK's continuous at-sea deterrent.

"But their hand has been forced by the circumstances of this dispute, and the result of the ballot shows they are prepared to do so if necessary."

Despite the vote, Prospect insisted no strike action had yet been planned, adding this was "very much a last resort", although the ballot had "given us the authority to take that action if necessary".

A defined benefit pension scheme is a pension plan which sees an employer promise a specified monthly benefit on retirement, based on an employee's earnings, length of service and age.

Alternatively, a defined contribution pension scheme gives an employee an accumulated sum when they retire, which can be used to secure a pension income through an annuity.

An AWE spokesman said: "The Prospect and Unite trade unions had formally notified AWE of their intention to ballot members on industrial action over pensions, and AWE continues to maintain a regular dialogue with its trade unions.

"Should strike action be undertaken, we can reassure the public that the company has in place procedures to ensure that the safety of our operations can be maintained at all times, and we will continue to meet our regulatory requirements."

Anniversary tree planted

THE borough council's mayor planted a hawthorn tree in War Memorial Park to mark a significant anniversary for a Hampshire charity last week.

Wednesday saw the North Hampshire District Group of the Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE) celebrate its 50th anniversary.

Mayor Jane Frankum said: "I have a love of the countryside, which goes back to my roots in Lincolnshire and coming from a farming family."

Businesses given a start-up boost

START-UP businesses in Basingstoke are to be helped by a £2.4 million acceleration programme to business incubator SETsquared.

The university partnership, which has a hub in Basing View, is to benefit from more than 360 high-growth digital entrepreneurs, after receiving backing from the European Union European Regional Development Fund.

The funding programme will be run from the Basingstoke hub.

Groups offered chance of grant up to £65,000

ORGANISATIONS have the chance to apply for funding of up £65,000 to fund projects that enhance safety in their communities.

Hampshire's police and crime commissioner (PCC) is asking existing and potential providers from both statutory and independent sectors to come forward with ideas.

Applications for funding are welcomed in the areas of domestic abuse, harmful cultural practices, hate crime, managing offenders, crime prevention, restorative practices, sexual crime, supporting victims, and vulnerable people at risk.

PCC Michael Lane is also looking for people with new and innovative ways of improving community safety to apply for funding being released following the publication of last month's police and crime plan.

He said: "In my determination to keep our communities safer, I will work in partnership to deliver the best outcomes – drawing on local intelligence and a sound evidence base.

"I will enhance existing partnerships and build new ones to best meet the needs of victims and offenders."

Applications are accepted until November 30, and can be made through hampshire-pcc.gov.uk/funding.

Competition

THE Anvil's magical Christmas pantomime this year is Sleeping Beauty, starring Sue Holderness (Only Fools and Horses), Katrina Bryan (CBeebies' Nina and the Neurons) and Sarah-Jane Buckley (Hollyoaks).

At the christening of the king and queen's long-wished-for baby, seven good fairies are invited to be godmothers to the Princess. However, the evil Carabosse is left off the list, so she curses the baby. Princess Briar Rose will prick her finger on a spindle of a spinning wheel and die. The Good Fairy manages to change the enchantment to falling asleep for 100 years – to be awakened by a kiss from a prince.

Sue Holderness will play the role of Carabosse, the Bad Fairy. Sue is best known as Marlene Boyce in one of the nation's favourite sitcoms Only Fools and Horses. A seasoned performer on stage, Sue regularly performs in pantomime which she loves (usually being wicked!).

Katrina Bryan will play the part of Princess Briar Rose, Sleeping Beauty. Katrina is known to children as Nina in the hit CBeebies series Nina and the Neurons. The award-winning show has been on television since 2007.

Closing date: Thursday, December 3

Taking the role of the Good Fairy is Sarah-Jane Buckley best known for playing Kathy Barnes in Hollyoaks. On stage, she has appeared as Eva Cassidy in Over the Rainbow and Songbird (which she co-produced); both have successfully been to The Haymarket.

Making a very welcome return to The Anvil as the Prince is Ben Harlow, who has played Prince Charming in Cinderella. Joining them will be comedy star Mark James as Silly Billy, Charles Burden as Nanny Glucose and Phil Cole as the King, as well as local young dancers for the North Hampshire Academy of Dance, JG Dance and Basingstoke Academy of Dancing.

Sleeping Beauty will run from Thursday 8 December 2016 to Monday 2 January 2017.

Tickets are now on sale, so call The Anvil box office on 01256 844244. For the most up-to-date information, visit www.anvilarts.org.uk

Win Tickets!

We have 2 family tickets to be won for this great show. The tickets are for the 6pm performance on Sunday, December 11 and to be in with a chance of winning them all you have to do is answer the following simple question:

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

ENTERTAINMENT & LISTINGS

Encore performance

By James Richings

WELL-KNOWN pieces from Igor Stravinsky, Pyotr Tchaikovsky, Klaus Badelt and John Williams will fill The Anvil when the Basingstoke Symphony Orchestra perform in the town on Saturday.

The musicians come to the Churchill Way venue to play classical pieces as part of their fantasy concert in which they will perform music from movies such as 'E.T' and 'Star Wars' as well as Stravinksy's 'The Firebird Suite'.

"We are always excited about playing at The Anvil," oboist and BSO concert manager Clive Evans told the Observer.

"Likened to 'an Italian courtyard in summer' by some experts, it is just so wonderful to have the privilege of playing in such a fantastic acoustic.

"I have played oboe and cor anglais in the orchestra since the mid '60s when we used to perform in the Shrubbery School Hall (now QMC) and various, often very cold churches. So there can be no going back."

This is the not the first time the BSO will have performed at the Churchill Way venue this year.

The BSO visited the theatre in March, where they showcased some of the finest pieces of classical music from the likes of Sibelius, Chopin and Brahms.

And Clive hopes the success of the spring show will be repeated on Saturday.

The longest serving-playing member of Basingstoke Symphony Orchestra is also hoping he can inspire a younger generation of musicians to get involved in classical music.

"This is an orchestra that not only plays to a professional standard but also performs with great spirit, enthusiasm and vitality," he said.

"The invitation to the audience to dress as characters from the films should help to make this a very memorable evening out for young and old alike."

He added: "I love it when you know that your performance had moved the listener in some way, whether that is by making them feel happy and uplifted or by moving them to tears.

• Clive Evans, oboist and BSO concert manager

"One of the most magical moments is when there is a palpable silence at the end of a performance, as if no one wants to be the first to break the magic by bursting into applause.

"And every time you pick up your instrument, you learn something new.

"However, you have to reach the point through regular practice (often boring and repetitive) where the instrument never gets in the way of the expression of the music."

Tickets cost from £13 to £24 and the concert will start at 7pm.

FOLLOWING the release of her brand new album 'Feelin' Good', Northern Irish singer Kaz Hawkins will be heading to The Haymarket tomorrow, Friday.

The 42-year-old arrives at the Wote Street venue to showcase tracks off the new record, which includes the new single, 'Soul Superstar' – a song that the musician seems to be very proud of.

Kaz will be joined by her band as they travel over the UK through-out the autumn months.

"This brand new song is from our new album 'Feelin' Good' with 'Soul Superstar', being the song to my childhood self," she said.

"That little girl who felt so much pain and anguish.

"That little girl I thought was weak until I finally realised she was the strong one who guided me to this point in my life.

"No more pain, no more horrors, no more being alone in depression.

"This is for all of you out there who feel you might not get through the day with the darkness that surrounds you."

Tickets for tomorrow night's gig will cost £15.50, or £13.50 for over 65s, under 16s and full-time students.

The show will start at 8pm.

ENTERTAINMENT & LISTINGS

Bare essentials

By James Richings

BASED on one of the best British films of all time, the theatre production of the 1997 award winning movie 'The Full Monty' will be dancing its way to The Haymarket in Basingstoke from Wednesday, November 16 to Saturday, November 26.

Written by Simon Beaufoy, the story features six middle-aged, unemployed men who decide the best way to make some cash is to create their own striptease dance routine.

However, Paul insists that despite the group of actors performing the Broadway version of the famous film, which is set in the US town of Buffalo rather than Sheffield, as in the movie, he strongly believes the show will be fun for everyone who comes along to it.

"The stage show of 'The Full Monty' closely follows the film with only slight differences," he told the Observer.

"This isn't an issue as my American accent is somewhat better than my Yorkshire accent and all of the iconic songs you know from the film do not appear in the stage show either.

"In fact, the score is completely original and there are some fantastic songs."

The film became an instant smash 19 years ago when it was released, with the movie even being nominated for four Academy Awards (Oscars) in 1998, winning the 'Best Original Musical Score' Award.

It was also a financial success with the movie grossing a total of $285 million from a $3.5 million budget.

However, the main reason why the film was insanely popular with people across the world was because behind the comedy, the flick focuses on issues such as unemployment, fathers' rights, homosexuality, depression and suicide.

"These issues are as important now as they were in 1997," Paul said.

"I would like to think the comedy is an appropriate tool to help raise their importance.

• Paul Morris

"People may not realise until after they have watched the show the diversity of issues we actually touch on.

"Add to this the comedy, characterisation, choreography, lighting and amazing orchestra, people are in for one hell of a show.

"The feel of the show naturally leads to audience participation, something we encourage and that really helps the six guys through the challenge of the final scene."

Tickets cost from £15 to £22.50.

DON'T be surprised when you see The Sons of Pitches at The Anvil tomorrow without any instruments - they haven't forgotten them, all of the sounds are from their mouths.

"Our performances always promise a huge mix of songs," member Joe Hinds told the Observer.

"We cover songs from '70s pop to musical theatre and from hip hop to rock–there's a bit of something for everyone!

"We always try and have a good laugh with the audience and bring a shed load of energy."

Made up of Joe Novelli, Joe Hinds, Joe Belham, Jamie Hughes, Josh Mallett and Mide Naike, the six friends met at the University of Birmingham where The Sons of Pitches already existed as part of the A Capella society.

He said: "We do have to put a huge amount of practice into our arrangements to make sure that we are all singing the right parts and staying in tune.

"Obviously some songs are harder than others but we always make sure that every song is the same level of tightness. The most important part of A Capella performing is listening to one another."

Tickets cost £24.50 or £28.50 and starts at 7.45pm.

Simply blown away by new Ford

I DON'T know about you but I remember the good old Fords from my day, such as the Ford Escort RS1600i and the bonking-mad Escort RS Turbo Mk1 & Mk2.

I myself had an Mk1 Escort Mexico for about three years and no car has ever made me feel as alive at the wheel as that old Ford did.

Sadly, I doubt I will ever get the chance to own another as the prices now for an Mk1 Mexico are just into gigabucks.

Happily, though, Ford has just introduced a new and updated version of the Focus RS - the 2.3 EcoBoost - and I have to say that it is probably the most eagerly anticipated fast Ford for a number of years.

Power and Efficiency:

Powered by an inline four-cylinder, 2.3-litre EcoBoost turbocharged petrol engine with 440Nm of Torque and 350PS of Ford Power, it has a 0-62 time of about 4.7 seconds and then to finish off a top speed of about 165mph.

The New Focus RS also gets Ford's Performance All-Wheel Drive system that is frankly staggering – and, if that's not enough, you also get four drive modes to play with - Normal, Sport, Race and Drift Mode, which is frankly the most fun you will ever have with the Focus RS.

By Anthony Yates

Design & Technology

Following in the footsteps of all its predecessors, the Focus RS comes with the normal hot-hatch styling on the outside, along with a vast amount of hidden electronic wizardry that you could possibly ever wish to shake a stick at and some technology built in, such as Dynamic Torque Vectoring Control which helps keep the grip levels to maximum and offers precise cornering abilities, along with race-inspired suspension components from Ohlins to improve road holding.

Inside is like a normal Focus but with extra gauges and Recaro seating along with some nice little ideas like the little rubber door edge strips that pop out from just inside the door edge to protect it from damage and then retreat back inside once the door is closed. That feature alone will make you go all tingly inside.

On the road:

The Focus RS feels fantastic and has the most outstanding driving dynamics and power-to-weight ratio that I have ever felt.

Also, no matter what mode you decide to 'play', the Focus RS will keep you entertained for what can only be described as possibly the rest of time.

The RS also stops as well as it goes and that's thanks to its massive Brembo four-piston monoblock callipers and 350mm ventilated front disc, which deliver a powerful and progressive feel.

To sum up:

ALL in all, Ford have once again created a remarkable piece of engineering.

Hats off to the boys from Ford for making all my dreams come true once again. I, for one, will be looking to buy such a beast in the very near future.

To Ford, I say 'Thank you and welcome back!'

Cup relief for 'Stoke after losing to league leaders

By Christian Wilson

EVO-STIK Southern Premier leaders Leamington proved to be too much for Basingstoke Town on Saturday.

Goals from Ahmed Obeng, Courtney Baker-Richardson, and Jack Edwards fired The Brakes to a convincing 3-1 win.

Striker Aaron Jarvis managed to pull one back for 'Stoke late on, but it proved to be little more than a consolation effort, as Terry Brown's side dropped to 11th place.

Town found things much easier on Tuesday however, as they registered their third 4-1 victory in five games to comfortably beat Division One rivals Fleet Town in the Southern League Cup.

Things couldn't have started much better for Basingstoke on a freezing night at the Ark Cancer Charity Stadium, as Joe Gater was found from a corner to fire home after four minutes.

George Hallahan and Richie Whittingham both then missed a couple of half chances to double 'Stoke's lead before half time.

But they didn't have to wait long after the break to go 2-0 up, as five minutes into the second half Whittingham was brought down in the box by Josh Hadfield, before then slotting home the penalty himself.

Ben Toye pulled one back for Fleet on the hour mark, before Sam Deadfield then restored the two-goal cushion for Basingstoke three minutes later with a clever dinked finish.

And with the visitors throwing everything forward to try and claw their way back, Jarvis put the game out of sight in the 77th minute with a low drive from the edge of the box.

It was Leamington who came flying out of the blocks in Saturday's tie though, as Obeng stroked the ball home from close range with 11 minutes on the clock, after strike partner Baker-Richardson's effort fell kindly into his path.

And Baker-Richardson then grabbed his side's second with a sensational scissor kick from 12 yards out 13 minutes later, following a mistake earlier in the move by 'Stoke keeper Alex Tokarczyk.

Edwards then beat him for a third time with a powerful header early in the second half, before Basingstoke's Aaron Redford inexplicably managed to slice a great chance all the way out for a throw in.

And while Jarvis capitalised on a mistake at the back to emphatically find the net to make it 3-1, the visitors made the trip back from Warwickshire with nothing to show for their efforts.

Basingstoke are next in action this Saturday, when they will travel to Dorchester Town in the FA Trophy.

Sport Bites

At the summit

HOCKEY: Basingstoke Hockey Club's ladies 1sts have gone top of the South Women's League Division 2.

The 1sts emerged with a 2-1 win in their top of the table clash with Epsom on Saturday to go above their rivals.

Claire Bowman gave 'Stoke an early lead with a penalty stroke, after Catriona Bausor was brought down by the home keeper.

Epsom equalised just before half-time, but came away from the tie with nothing, after Claire Griffiths stroked home the winner late on.

League return

FOOTBALL: Basingstoke Town Ladies will look to end a run of three matches without a win when they return to league action on Sunday.

'Stoke's last game on October 30 saw them get hammered 5-0 in the cup to second-placed Chichester City, with their next opponents FA Women's Premier League South West Division 1 leaders Plymouth Argyle.

Hartley thrashing

FOOTBALL: Ross Cook fired a hat-trick as Hartley Wintney thrashed North Greenford United 7-0 on Saturday.

Sam Argent and Steven Duff both also grabbed braces at Memorial Playing Fields, as The Row ran riot once again.

Hartley have won 16 of their 19 games in the Combined Counties Premier Division so far this season – losing just once, and scoring 70 goals, to move 13 points clear at the top of the table.

Racer Daisy picks up championship trophy

• Daisy Coleman with her award

BASINGSTOKE'S Daisy Coleman was finally handed her P1 Powerboat Championship trophy last week.

The Popley-based powerboat racer claimed the title at the fourth attempt in September, after three successive top-three finishes was enough to secure victory .

Daisy acted as navigator for Team Pertemps, alongside brother Sam Coleman, as the duo made history by becoming the first team to ever podium at every event throughout the season.

And they both picked up their respective top driver and navigator awards for the 2016 P1 SuperStock UK season at the annual awards dinner in Wooton House, Surrey, on Thursday evening.

'Stoke grind out another win

Gareth Hatherley-Hurford's side were really made to work hard for their victory, as they ground out a 6-5 win in Eastleigh.

'Stoke made the short trip down the M3 off the back of securing bonus point wins in each of their wins over Old Tiffinians, Millbrook, and Bognor, to move them up to fourth in London Three South West.

They claimed a massive total of 21 tries and 147 points from those three matches, but found things much tougher against a struggling Trojans side.

And it was Guilfoyle who would help get 'Stoke off the mark, as his persistence forced the hosts to give away a penalty, which Tom Humberstone duly converted to make it 3-0.

That was about as good as things got in a very poor first half, although Trojans grabbed the only try of the game soon after the restart, as they won a string of penalties that allowed one of their backs to dot down in the corner.

'Stoke were then reduced to 14 men, after Tom Allen was sent to the sin bin for a high tackle, although Trojans couldn't press home their advantage.

And after winning a penalty in front of the posts, the boot of Humberstone then claimed another three points for Basingstoke to seal the tightest of matches.

Flames send Bison hopes up in smoke

By Christian Wilson

GUILDFORD Flames again sent Basingstoke Bison's hopes up in smoke when they inflicted a 2-0 home defeat on them on Saturday.

The Bonfire Night clash against the Herd's fiercest rivals proved a slow-burner until it ignited in the final period to hand the Flames a 2-0 win.

Victory at Basingstoke Arena would have kept the Stampede in fourth in the English Premier League, with what would have been their 10th win in 11 matches. The only blemish to that run came away at Guildford last month when Bison were hammered 5-1.

But after bouncing back to claim maximum points from Swindon Wildcats and Milton Keynes Lightning, the Flames once again derailed the Basingstoke charge at the weekend.

Former Bison netminder Dean Skinns made his first appearance for Guildford on his return to Planet Ice, and saved 28 shots to register a shutout.

The Basingstoke-born goalie was forced to save with his pads from Matt Towalski and Tomas Karpov, while Tomas Hiadlovsky blocked from Tuomas Santavuori in the first period.

Bison's Rene Jarolin also forced Skinns into a fine save midway through the second period.

The fireworks began after the break when Jens Eriksson finally beat Hiadlovsky to break the deadlock on 42:59, before Ciaran Long and Andrew Hemmings were both handed two-minute penalties for roughing.

Bison were given a big chance to draw level when Danny Meyers and Kevin Phillips were both sin-binned to give the hosts a five-on-three advantage, but they could not find a way past Skinns.

With Guildford sitting increasingly deeper, and with just over a minute left on the clock, Bison gambled by pulling Hiadlovsky from the ice to give them an extra attacker. But the move did not pay off, as with just 36 seconds remaining, the puck broke to Santavuori to fire into an unguarded goal.

Tensions finally blew after the final buzzer, with Joe Baird being penalised for a check from behind, and Declan Balmer and Jez Lundin both receiving two-minute penalties and a 10-minute misconduct penalty apiece for fighting.

Bison next host Manchester Phoenix on Saturday.
